Questions & Answers

What kind of projects can receive funding?

Category III funding is for ecosystem restoration projects such as fish screens and ladders, habitat restoration, water quality improvements, gravel restoration, and watershed management actions. Complete guidance on the types of projects to be considered for funding in 1997 will be available in May 1997.

Who can receive funding?

Proposals can come from a variety of sources including state and federal agencies, local governments, special districts, non-profit organizations, and other organizations interested in ecosystem restoration.

How do I apply?

A grant application package containing directions on how to apply, types of projects being solicited, criteria that will be used to evaluate projects, a schedule for submitting applications, and the format for applications will be available in May 1997. To receive a copy of the application package please send a letter to CALFED asking to be included on the distribution list and indicating the type(s) of projects you are interested in.
